"Fat Woman's Bend" is the name of a village on the Missouri river.

Six simultaneous applications for divorces emanate from one family in Marysville, Ky.

The Queen of England has ordered a granite sarcophagus to be made for the remains of Louis Napoleon.

Pennsylvania has tried cast-iron tombstones, and they are declared to look more recherche than marble.

An Iowa clergyman has four boys, and the youngest is named Doxology, because he was the last of the "hims."

Pittsburg, Penn., receives annually about 355,000 tons of iron ore from Missouri, costing about $8 per ton.

A wealthy drunkard in Aurora, Illinois, lately crawled into the wrong house, and beat another man's sick wife almost to death.

One of the best paying saw-mills in Green Bay is owned by a woman, who knocked the head sawyer down when he proposed marriage to her.

A Virginia boy made a very handsome snow man, about seven feet high, and robed it in his mother's sixty dollar Paisley shawl. He is saddest when he sits.

A brilliant Danbury did not clean the snow from his sidewalk. He pinched his wife until she screamed, and his neighbors trod down the snow for him.

The tarantulas, spiders, lizards and snakes of Mexico kill off 2,000 greasers per year, but don't dampen the enthusiasm for a new rebellion every few weeks.

Kentucky has a dog that climbs trees after coons, and gets 'em. He recently went up the inside of a tree sixty-five feet and came down with a coon in his mouth.

M. de Rosenthal, the celebrated chess-player, played twenty-eight games of chess simultaneously with as many of the best players in Paris, and won all but two.

A woman of the world says: "The estate of widowhood is inconvenient, for one must have all the modesty of a young girl without being able to feign her ignorance."

"Who made you?" was asked of a small girl. She replied, "God made me that length," indicating with her hands the length of a new born infant, "and I grew the rest myself."

It is reported that two companies of Choctaw Indians, in pursuit of horse thieves, captured 15, Friday, January 31, and on the next morning, after holding a council, shot 6 of them.

Two babies, boy and girl, were found packed in a box of sawdust by some Detroit boys, the other morning. The Coroner decided that they were born alive, and the police are investigating.

Miss Addie Saylor, of Bridgeport, Conn., attended a Frenchman, who was sick of small-pox a few months ago, and now he has given her a fortune of $50,000. Girls, go and hunt up small-pox patients.

A New Orleans girl recently kissed a negro drayman in the street because he had just saved her little sister from the wheels of an approaching car. The fortunate father also received $100 from the girl's dakey.

An attempt is being made to reopen in Boston a suit in which a divorce was granted for alleged infidelity thirteen years ago. It is alleged that evidence has been found that the verdict was fraudulently or improperly obtained.

A farmer's daughter recently married a "wealthy and respectable" traveling agent, on a short acquaintance. He has just left her with a note advising her not to fall in love with strangers hereafter. That man evidently has some solid ideas.

A successful evasion of the Prussian order forbidding the display of the tricolor was recently made at Strasburg by three young ladies who walked around the streets, one dressed in red, another in white, and the third in blue.
